

OBITUARIES

Charles Bartley Jeffery, Shaker Hts. art director

WOOSTER

Charles Bartley Jeffery was director of art in Shaker Heights public schools for 22 years. He exhibited prize-winning pottery, jewelry and cloisonne on silver for 40 years in the Cleveland Museum of Art's May Show. He also taught enameling and design at the Cleveland Institute of Art.

Mr. Jeffery was a resident of Wooster in recent years. He died Saturday while visiting a friend in Shaker Heights. He was 82.

Mr. Jeffery was born in Paducah, Ky. He was reared in Toledo and Fostoria and was an honors graduate of the Cleveland Institute of Art in 1932.

He earned a master's degree from Western Reserve University a year later.

Mr. Jeffery taught at Collinwood High School for two years, then joined the educational staff of the Cleveland Museum of Art in 1935. He took the Shaker post in 1947.

Mr. Jeffery taught enameling and design workshops and judged art shows across the country.

He married his wife, the former Virginia Bourns, 57 years ago. They moved to Wooster in 1976.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Jeffery is survived by a son, Bartley of Ellington, Conn.; a daughter, Carolyn Sherman of Wayne, Pa.; and three grandchildren.

Memorial services will be 10 a.m. today at Westminster Presbyterian Church, 353 E. Pine St., Wooster.
